PANEL #1: Beer, Wine and Spirits in the White House: A Historic Perspective!

This moderated panel will provide fresh insight on how beverage alcohol, including spirits from Mount Vernon, wine from Monticello, and beer brewed inside the White House impacted former United States Presidents. Come explore and learn about Washington, Jefferson, and Obama's relationship with value added agriculture. The panel will provide lots of "Did You Knows" with history buffs sure to enjoy this session. DC offers the perfect venue to gain a better understanding of alcohol's role in these presidencies.

Moderator: ERNEST LEGIER, Commissioner, Louisiana Alcohol and Tobacco Control

Panelists: STEVE BASHORE, Master Distiller, Mount Vernon Distillery
MARGIE A.S. LEHRMAN, CEO, American Craft Spirits Association and Smithsonian Representative
MARYBETH WILLIAMS, Attorney, Williams Compliance and Consulting Group, LLC

11:05 A.M. – 12:05 P.M.

PANEL #2: Public Safety & Enforcement Issues – Combating Underage Drinking

Underage drinking is a public health concern in the United States that has existed since the dawn of the industry. This panel will discuss the many tools and practices that may be used by regulators and industry members to help combat underage drinking, from preventative and reactive programs to proactive enforcement and education efforts. We'll also discuss the availability and use of federal funds and grants, how third party marketplaces approach the issue, the advancement of technology in detecting and producing fake IDs (and the balance of collecting sensitive personal information), and the general issue of responsible marketing of beverage alcohol products.

Moderator: DEREK BROOKS Sr., Chief of Enforcement, District of Columbia Alcoholic Beverage and Cannabis Administration

Panelists: JOE FINELLI, Deputy Commissioner for Enforcement, New York State Liquor Authority
KEN KAST, Senior Counsel, New Business Verticals & Regulatory, DoorDash
JAMES SKLODA, Assistant General Counsel, Casey's General Stores

PANEL #3: Perspectives on the Rapid Growth of Non-Alcoholic and Low Alcohol in Beverages

Recent trends in consumers seeking a better-for-you option that allow for moderation in drinking has led to innovation in non-alcoholic offerings. This panel explores the various types and products, including 0.0 and alcohol removed products from the perspective of suppliers, wholesalers, consumer protection, and regulators.

Moderator: SHAUNA BARNES, Founding Partner, Barnes Beverage Group (MD)

Panelists: THOMAS AKRAS, Director, Legal and Legislative Division, Maryland Alcohol, Tobacco, and Cannabis Commission
BRIAN FINK, Associate, Foster Garvey PC (NY)
STEPHEN LARSON, Administrator, Iowa Dept. of Revenue-Alcoholic Beverages Division
EMILY PENCE, Chief People Officer, Best Day Brewing

2:35 P.M. – 3:35 P.M.

PANEL #4: Cross-Over Beverages – Marketing and Trade Practices

As beverage companies continue to look to expand their portfolio offerings by leveraging similar brands and product lines across both alcoholic and non-alcoholic offerings, as well as expanding into infused products such as ice pops, distinct issues arise for state regulators and industry members. Assuring consumers and minors are not confused as to the alcoholic nature of the products and considering unique issues for maintaining separation and distinctiveness between tiers is essential. In this panel, hear from both state and federal regulators, and industry members on how they are addressing and thinking about these products from sales, to retail positioning, slotting fees, and public health concerns.

Moderator: ALVA MATHER, Partner, McDermott Will & Emery (DC)

Panelists: JANELLE CHRISTIAN, Director, Office of Industry and State Outreach, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB)
MARC HAALMAN, Special Agent in Charge, Compliance, Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Authority
JEREMY KRUEDINIER, Executive Director and General Counsel, Wine and Spirits Distributors of Illinois
SGT. BRIAN STEWART, Trade Practice Unit, Indiana Alcohol & Tobacco Commission

3:35 P.M. – 3:50 P.M.

AFTERNOON BREAK

3:50 P.M. – 4:50 P.M.

PANEL #5: NCSLA Productions presents “But What Does It Mean?” The new game show where contestants, and the audience, bring clarity to alcohol industry jargon.

Two teams (four persons on a team) of industry professionals (made up of regulators and industry members) face off as they vie to define industry terms such as “Things of Value,” “Temperance,” “Inducement,” “Obviously Intoxicated,” “Suitability,” “Public Convenience” and so many more.

But wait, there’s more!!! The judges for this game show are...YOU...the audience! Be enlightened, entertained and, like any game show, have a chance to win “fabulous prizes!”

8:30 A.M. – 9:30 A.M. PANEL #6: Supporting a Culture of Compliance

What can industry members and regulators do to promote an industry-wide culture of compliance? Having a culture of compliance in our industry is more than just meeting the minimum legal requirements. It is creating values that support, acknowledge, and reward integrity, ethical values, and positive business behaviors. The panel will cover the following topics: Is the alcohol industry a self-regulating system; What are the practices employed by regulators and industry members to promote an industry-wide culture of compliance; What are the regulatory consequences of failing to promote a culture of compliance; What are internal business consequences of failing to promote a culture of compliance.

Moderator: SGT. RISA WILLIAMS, Investigations Division, Arizona Department of Liquor Licenses and Control

Panelists: ROD DIAZ, Executive Director, Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

NCSLA REGIONAL STATE MEETINGS:

1:00 P.M. – 2:00 P.M. PANEL #9: Licensing in the Age of Complex Ownership Structures

Difficulty or confusion in licensing and qualifying complex ownership structures has a major impact on the growth of, and investment in, the industry. Numerous state regulators are looking for more information on complex ownership structures when entities seeking licensure may be owned by trusts, private equity funds, Real Estate Investment (REIT) funds, Limited Partnerships, and employees. And the industry is looking for more guidance on how these complex ownership structures will be handled, especially as their use proliferates. This panel will shed light on how these ownership structures work and how regulators can be assured they have appropriate information on how these entities are managed, controlled and funded. The issues discussed during this panel will hopefully result in productive dialogue that will lead to a more consistent nationwide approach to the licensing and regulation of licensees with complex ownership structures.

PANEL #10: AI Revolution: What Are the Regulatory Implications of Creating a “Smart” Alcohol Beverage Industry?

AI is everywhere – from self-driving cars to computer games to food and beverage manufacturing -- artificial intelligence is positioned to help our industry get “smart.” Throughout the industry, AI is being integrated into day-to-day operations to reduce labor costs and reduce human error. From improvements in quality control and logistics operations to more accurate predictive forecasting and fully automated retail stores, AI is taking the lead in global industry innovation. But how far can we go with AI? Are there limitations on how AI can be used or how AI generated information can be shared? Are automated retail service models legal? What are current state laws and regulatory/licensing requirements for this type of automated service? What are the risks and liabilities associated with reliance on AI or automated alcohol services?

Moderator: MARBET LEWIS, Partner, Shutts & Bowen LLP (FL)

PANEL #12: Ethical Responsibility of Regulators in Management of the Three Tier System and the Concept of Wellness Drinking

Recent legislative proposals in the alcohol industry that will ease certain restrictions have been interrupted by addiction experts as anti-temperance. This ethics presentation will focus on how regulatory changes have impacted state funded services of prevention, treatment, harm reduction and recovery. The discussion will also include a guide on what to do when a legal professional becomes aware of a colleague struggling with mental health or addiction issues.

Applicable Rules of Professional Conduct will be covered; qualifies as MCLE accredited panel.
